

ROGUE WAVES & CROSSWINDS: TRADE MARKS IN MOTION

PAUL RANJARD, Chair of the EU Chamber of Commerce in China's IPR Working Group, Representative of Unifab, and Of Counsel at Wan Hui Da IP Firm, CN

Paul Ranjard is a French lawyer who has been based in China since 1997. He graduated in 1969 from the Paris Law School and joined the Paris Bar in 1972.

Apart from his general practice mainly as a commercial law litigator, Mr. Ranjard has progressively developed a Chinese related affairs practice. In September, 1997, he moved to Beijing.

Since that date, Mr. Ranjard has devoted most of his time to IPR related cases, acting on behalf of French companies to help protect their intellectual property rights, as well as representing the French association Unifab, and chairing the IPR Working Group of the European Chamber of Commerce. For the last ten years, he has been of Counsel to WAN HUI DA Intellectual Property Agency and Law firm.
